THERMAL ALUMINIUM WINDOWS & DOORS

WHY CHOOSE ALUMINIUM?

Lusso thermal windows and doors are constructed using premium grade alloy profiles. The frames are joined together with extruded polyamide strips, creating one of the strongest and most durable window and door systems available.

Choose from a wide range of colours and woodgrain finishes. You can even specify dual colours (different frame colours inside and out) to match your property perfectly.

Aluminium profiles are thinner than other materials, allowing more light into your home. Yet they are also stronger. Designed specifically with the UK weather in mind, they will not warp or twist out of shape with changes in temperature.

If you appreciate high quality, require a system that will last and last whilst requiring virtually no maintenance, then Lusso thermal aluminium windows and doors are for you.

SLIDING PATIO DOORS

Our Sliding Patio Doors are perfect for bringing together the inside of your home with the outside.

Engineered for strength and stability, these wide opening aluminium sliding doors with their strong yet slim frame design, allow you to enjoy the best views and maximize the amount of light coming in.

Our aluminium sliding patio doors are designed with a multipoint locking system, providing additional security features around the doors. This robust system ensures they deliver all round security for complete peace of mind.

BI-FOLDING DOORS

Bi-folding doors are one of the most popular home improvements our customers make.

Bi-folding doors open up an entire wall to your garden or patio. They give a wonderful feeling of space and an unobstructed view.

Popular in open-plan kitchens, conservatories and extensions, the aluminium bi-folding doors are available in a wide range of sizes, colours and configurations.

Constructed from extruded aluminium, our bi-folding doors make the ideal choice for large openings where strength and build quality are paramount.

"Bi-fold doors give a wonderful feeling of space and an unobstructed view."

CASEMENT WINDOWS

With sleek lines and large glass area, an aluminium casement window gives your home a contemporary look no other material can match.

The polyester powder coated paint gives the contoured frame a deep and lustrous finish. The way it operates and the feel of the handle give reassurance and confidence that you have chosen a precision engineered product.

Choose from a range of different colours, dual-colours and sublimated woodgrain finishes. Other options include frame size, handle choice and glazing specification.

"The aluminium casement window makes a graceful, contemporary proposition for discerning home owners."

FRONT & BACK DOORS

If you are looking for something different and bespoke, our thermal aluminium doors allow you the design freedom you need.

Each door uses a high security aluminium frame and multipoint locking system as standard. As with all of the aluminium range, there is a wide choice of colours, dual colours and woodgrain finishes to compliment your door.

Each door is individually designed with you and your home in mind. We can help and guide you with glass and panel choice, handles and letterboxes in order to produce the ideal door for you and your property.

The feel and solidity of the thermal aluminium door system cannot be matched by other doors. They truly are a unique and indulgent addition to any home.

STABLE DOORS

An evolution of the aluminium back door, the stable door was introduced after listening to customers' feedback. Boasting all of the security features found on the standard aluminium doors, the stable door sash is in two parts allowing independent opening of the top half of the door only if required.

The stable door is ideal for keeping small children safe whilst allowing ventilation and easy access through the top half of the door. It is also useful for courtyards where it will keep animals, dust and debris out whilst allowing the view and free flowing air into the building.

FRENCH DOORS

French doors are a classic solution for many homes owners.

The aluminium French doors are ideal for all aspects, but even more so in South facing elevations or when the doors will receive a lot of direct sunlight.

Constructed from high grade aluminium profiles, with polyamide thermal barriers, the heat of the sun will not warp or expand the doors like other materials.

Because aluminium is less effected by expansion and contraction, aluminium doors will go on giving many years of maintenance free service long after doors made from other materials have had to be replaced.

FRENCH WINDOWS

Also known as 'floating mullion', the French window is cleverly engineered to give a totally unrestricted view when both sashes are open.

The central mullion appears to float as the window opens, leaving an uninterrupted space.

French windows offer a great many benefits such as allowing easier escape in the event of fire. The ability to open the entire window space means you can make the most of the view from your home, whether of your own garden or spectacular scenery beyond.

When fitted into kitchens, it allows food and condiments to be passed easily and quickly from the home to the garden, courtyard or conservatory.

SLIMLINE ALUMINIUM WINDOWS

The aluminium casement window is available in a reduced width version, making it ideal when replacing old metal or steel windows.

It's frames are only 49mm wide, resulting in contemporary, minimal sightlines that allow maximum glass area.

Like the standard width casement windows, slimline windows are available in a range of colours and dual colours. They benefit from the same high security locking systems, and wide range of beautifully finished handles.

HARDWARE OPTIONS

Aluminium windows and doors can be highly personalised with a wide range of different hardware colours and styles.

Handles and accessories are constructed and engineered to the same exacting standards as our window and door systems.

Choose from a wide range of high-quality handles, knockers and letterboxes. Window handles are available in several different finishes to compliment the frame colour and décor of your home. Similarly door handles can be specified in various different contemporary finishes.
